Bio

I'm Marco, in September 2012 I decided to enroll myself at the University of Florence to pursue my true passion; computer science and security. I graduated in October 2018 with 110/110 cum laude at the master's degree in resilient and secure cyber physical systems. My master thesis was on "Side-Channel Attacks and speculative execution".

After that, I attended the Short Specialisation Programme (Master I livello) in Cybersecurity at the Pisa University, graduating with full marks. As a final project of the master I carried out a penetration testing of an android application developed internally by the company where I did a six months internship, the Florence Consulting Group of Sesto Fiorentino.

Subsequently, I worked at H-ON Consulting in Prato where I discovered the world of OT cybersecurity. My principal activity was providing cybersecurity consultancy applied to the OT/IACS world following the processes and requirements of the IEC 62443 standard and NIS directive (D.Lgs. 65/2018).

Now, I'm part of the IT & Digital Transformation Department within the function of the Chief Technology Officer in the Security Systems structure at Autostrade per l'Italia.
